This month's topic:

AN iOS CHRISTMAS

A look at three ingenious gifts for iPhone, iPad or iPod touch users in your life, or as a gift to yourself to be presented by Annette Davis, Rob Ellis and Roger Owens

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas
Everywhere you go,
And wouldn't a gift be nice
To pair with an iDevice?
Your loved one's sure to glow from head to toe.

If there is a special someone in your life who owns an iPad, iPhone or iPod touch, this season could be the perfect time to give a gift that is truly original, and Tuesday's meeting showcases three of them. In the tradition of ladies first, Annette will demonstrate a clever gizmo that gently attaches to an iPad, and allows you to interact with actual game pieces, puzzles and drawing surfaces, all of which can be touched, moved and manipulated on the table in front of you. This combination of fun and learning can be enjoyed by kids from ages four to ninety-two, and particularly by ages five through twelve. Rob will present an amazing little device which, at long last, solves the dilemma of how to backup and transfer files and photos to and from nearly any iOS device and nearly any computer, including some very old computers with which iTunes cannot be used. Roger will show off a tiny wonder which solves a problem even more challenging than how to operate your mobile device while wearing fluffy mittens: how to transmit music or any other sound, from any iOS device or iPod, to virtually any FM radio, be it in your living room or car. For three possible solutions to your gift-giving conundrums, please join us in a winter wonderland of unique presents; and dare we say it, one of those presents could be for yourself. Come learn about gifts ever jolly and bright; merry meeting to all, and to all a good night.

Also,

BACK TO MAC BASICS

In this segment, we focus on more fundamental skills, to make life a little easier for those who are trying to learn how to use their Macs. This month:

ONE-CLICK WONDERS
to be presented by Rob Ellis

Many capabilities on your Mac are less than obvious, even in apps that you see, and use, often. A few such capabilities are hiding at the top of app windows. On Tuesday, Rob will demonstrate the useful, timesaving tricks you can pull off when you left-click the top of many app windows.

About the weather:

In these winter months, if the weather is particularly bad or road conditions are unsafe on the day of one of our monthly meetings, please try to check your email before you leave for the meeting. If a meeting is ever cancelled or postponed due to weather, we will send an emergency email to let you know.

On the first day of Christmas, my true love gave to me three perfectly brilliant ideas for gifts which fill the heart with joy and solve distressing problems with astonishing ease. Have yourself a merry little Christmas, let your heart be light, and please do join us on Tuesday. And please also feel free to bring a friend. See you there!
